Building the Church

"In her own words, Sister Laydi is "a lion in a cage", she has been living in the Diocese of Kon Tum, in Vietnam's Highlands. Her presence is dearly needed. Working alongside the local National Director of the Pontifical Mission Societies, she helps train hundreds of Vietnamese religious sisters in door-to-door evangelization, forming them to better share the Word of God with people who, after decades of communist rule, "often don't even think there is a God" much less one who loved each of them so much that He died on the cross to redeem them. She belongs to the Missionary Servants of the Word.

Today, the movement includes more than 400 sisters and countless lay collaborators around the world. Their focus is not primarily on fostering vocations to religious life, but on igniting evangelizing zeal in all baptized. "What we often say is that lay people can share the Word of God too", she said. "It's not something only priests do during their homilies. We all are called to live the Gospel". In Vietnam, that mission is carried out in silence and shadows. "We are here with tourist or work visas, working as English teachers or anything we can find," she explained. And then, we work as missionaries". "We cannot wear a habit, even if our congregation does. Foreigners can't be too exposed", she said. Her days now alternate between teaching English to orphans and forming Vietnamese religious sisters in the congregation's charism, which she has to do from within the safety of her community. "Our charism is to go from home to home, sharing time with the families, reading a biblical passage, and praying with them", she said.

There are currently four sisters in her community in Kon Tum, despite the small number, their reach is wide. Over the past four years, they have trained more than 300 Vietnamese religious sisters to live as parish missionaries for a year, adopting their method of door-to-door evangelization. "The Church, by its nature, is missionary," she said. "And a Church that is not missionary is not the Church of Christ. Jesus sent us to evangelize. Every member of the Church is called to this". Sometimes, my entire day, the only mission I have is to be in His presence in front of the Blessed Sacrament, praying for those whom my sisters meet, and living a life that embodies the life of a contemplative sister- which was the one thing I knew I wasn't called to be".

What sustains her? "St. John says that love dissipates fear", she said. "We are all afraid sometimes. I was scared coming here, knowing that the government does not want me here. But I focused everything on Jesus and His love, because that was His promise to us: "I will be with you until the end of time". That conviction, the knowledge that no matter what, Jesus will be there, dissipates all fears" (From Mission, a magazine of the Pontifical Mission Societies, Fall 2025).

Question: Knowing how difficult it is for this missionary and her community to carry out their evangelizing mission in Vietnam, what are you going to do to strengthen the mission of the Church in our parish community?

Fr. Marco

Please pray for the Special Intentions of Pope Leo XIV to receive plenary indulgences May 2026:

That everyone might have food

Let us pray that everyone, from large producers to small consumers, be committed to avoid wasting food, and to ensure that everyone has access to quality food.

DDD,

Each year, the diocese allocates a quota to each parish based on each parish's income. You may have some questions regarding the DDD. I will try to answer them using the following example: Imagine the diocese as a very large family: 12 children, each with their own family. However, the twelve children, along with their parents, carry out a mission together, for which they need to contribute financially to a common fund. In this case, the parents assign a quota to each child based on their income. In this way, the family sustains itself and carries out its mission.

The Diocese of Salt Lake City is that family, the children are each parish and the Bishop is the head of the family. Now, Notre Dame de Lourdes parish was extremely financially blessed in 2025. For that reason the DDD quota for 2026 has also increased significantly, we have been assigned $138,900.00.

This number may seem large at first but our parish was extremely blessed last year. From that amount, we as a community will be responsible only for $38,900.00. Thank God and a generous donator who gave us $10,000.00, for DDD, we only need to collect $28,900.00, and the rest will be covered with part of the funds the parish received as donations last year.

How are we going to collect the $28,900.00? I have asked Jennifer Warner and Savannah Riche to be in charge of collecting all donations for DDD in the parish. That is, you inform either of them how much you are going to donate to the DDD. You can give it to them in cash, by check, or simply let them know you will make your donation online, in which case you indicate the amount of your contribution.

May God bless you abundantly for all your generosity.

Fr. Marco
